

A SEMINAR FOR ESRC SOCIAL SCIENCE WEEK

WHAT IS THE ENVIRONMENT?
PERCEPTUAL DIFFERENCES AND THEIR POLICY IMPLICATIONS

Presentations from the ESRC's Environment and Human Behaviour Programme
June 23rd 2003, Policy Studies Institute, London

PROGRAMME

- 10.00 Introduction Paul Ekins
Programme Academic Co-ordinator
Policy Studies Institute
- 10.15 Perceptions from Different Communities
- The Environment and the Indian Middle Classes Emma Mawdsley
University of Durham
- The Environment and Saharan Peoples Jeremy Keenan
Discussant: Emma Mawdesley University of East Anglia
- The Environment and UK Low-Income Communities Jake Elster
Discussant: Maria Adebawale London School of Economics
- 12.30 Lunch
- 13.30 Perceptions from Different Contexts
- The Environment and Small Businesses Robert Blackburn
Discussant: Joseph Murphy Andrea Revell
Kingston University
- The Environment and the Home Elizabeth Shove
Discussant: Tina Fawcett, UCL Heather Chappells
University of Lancaster
- 15.00 Perceptions from Different Applications
- What is Environmental Appraisal Appraising? Tim Rayner
Discussant: Roger Levett University of Cambridge
- The Environment and Learning John Foster / Stephen Gough
University of Lancaster/Bath
- 16.30 General discussion
- 17.00 Sum Up and Close Paul Ekins