The research reported here was made possible by the financial support of the Anglo-German Foundation for the Study of Industrial Society. The content and conclusions presented are, however, entirely the responsibility of the authors.

We would like to express our thanks to the individuals and firms which gave their time and help to take part in the study, both in Britain and the Federal German Republic.

Many other individuals, too numerous to mention, have helped with the research at various stages, both in our own institutions and from outside. We are grateful to all of them.
